REBECCA MOLL FREED, ESQ. ELECTED NEW TRUSTEE TO PARTNERS FOR WOMEN AND JUSTICE'S BOARD

Partners for Women and Justice ("Partners") welcomes new trustee, Rebecca Moll Freed, Esq. to its Board of Trustees. Freed was approved at Partners' November board meeting. Regarding her appointment Freed commented, "As a woman, mother and attorney, I believe that domestic violence victims need meaningful access to the legal system. Too often, these women and their children are overlooked because they are embarrassed, afraid or poor. I welcome the opportunity to become involved in the fight against domestic violence by serving on Partners' Board." Executive Director, Jane M. Hanson said, "Rebecca has tremendous passion and commitment to supporting Partners' mission. I truly believe she will provide innovation and insight to our operations and the future of our organization."

Freed, a Georgetown University Law Center graduate, is counsel at Genova, Burns & Giantomasi. Working out of the firm's Newark, New Jersey and New York City offices, she is a member of the Corporate Political Activity Law and Public Contract Law & Bid Protest Litigation Practice Groups.

Ms. Freed advises corporations, partnerships, limited liability companies, trade associations, charitable organizations, social welfare organizations and political action committees on the legal aspects of their political activities. Ms. Freed has assisted clients in both the development and enforcement of political activity compliance policies. Ms. Freed's experience also includes advising clients on corporate ethics. She has counseled both for-profit and not-for-profit entities in this regard.

In 2008, Freed was recognized as one of the New Jersey Law Journal's "Forty Under 40" and was named one of the NJBIZ "Forty Under 40" in 2010. She is a member of the Democratic Task Force and Board Counsel to the Women's Political Caucus of New Jersey.

Partners for Women and Justice empowers low-income and abused women to build safe and secure futures for themselves and their children by providing equal access to justice. The organization offers quality legal assistance in domestic violence and family law matters and guidance to promote financial competence and independence.
